

One-day Symposium on:

Policing Scotland in the 21st century: from local to global challenges

Programme

Date: 7 October 2005

Venue: Discovery Point

- 10.00 Introduction and Welcome: Sir Alan Langlands, Principal, University of Dundee
- 10.15-11.30 Delivering local policing and community safety
- Dan Donnelly (Scottish Centre for Police Studies, Bell College)
“Rumours of my death have been widely exaggerated” – PC Patrol Officer’
- Liz Kay (Leader of the Community Safety Unit, Dundee City Council)
- 11.45-1.00 The challenges of policing hi-tech crime
- Graeme Pearson (Director of the Scottish Drug Enforcement Agency and ACPOS lead on high tech crime)
- Peter Speight (Director of Security Risk Management, Reliance Security)
- 1.00-2.00 Lunch
- 2.00-3.15 Policing and security in an age of international terrorism
- John Vine (Chief Constable, Tayside Police)
- Paul Wilkinson (Professor, Centre for the Study of Terrorism and Political Violence, University of St Andrews).
‘The changing face of terrorism and Problems of Democratic and International Response’
- 3.15-4.00 Discussion (Rapporteur: Jim McCormick, Scottish Council Foundation)